YOU KNOW YOU’RE FROM LANCASTER COUNTY if you equate the distelfink – and not the bluebird – to happiness. The distelfink, which is actually a stylized version of the European goldfinch, is synonymous with love, happiness and good fortune. The distelfink became a much-used symbol of Pennsylvania German folk artists, who originally used it to decorate fraktur (notably certificates commemorating such events as births and weddings). In modern times, the distelfink came to define hex signs and quilt patterns. Hopefully, the results of this year’s Best of Lancaster survey will make a lot of people happy!
